

Instructions for Religion and Literature Petition

Religion and literature students must submit a petition, both to the GPD and to the Graduate School, in order for their religion courses to count as electives.

Fill out the Graduate School Petition form (available on the EGSA website) according to the following:

- 1) Check "Other" on the form.
- 2) In the "Statement of Petition" section, list the religion courses for which you would like to receive credit.
- 3) In the "Justification of Petition" section, explain that Baylor doesn't have a Religion and Literature track, and that these religion courses need to count as electives.
- 4) When submitting this petition to the GPD, also attach transcripts (available on Bearweb).

The form must be signed by the GPD, then sent to the Graduate School.